

DIPEC

affordable acrylic products

WHO'S the daddy when it comes to producing props for a hit TV series featuring a famous time traveller?

Or, proved itself game, set and match to be the perfect provider to serve up a giant orange juice dispenser cover for use at Wimbledon?

Look no further than Dipec Plastics Ltd, the family firm which, since its launch in 1981, has grown to become Wales's leading plastics fabrication company.

The above two examples are just some of the more interesting projects handled by the small firm with a big and prestigious order book - but they don't end there.

Dipec Plastics also made a 40ft canopy to protect dignitaries attending the final of the Rugby World Cup at the Millennium Stadium where the Queen presented the trophy, it won the commission to create cases for displaying balls, shirts, bikes etc at all Sports Café' venues and, in the early years, also manufactured the Welsh BAFTA awards.

Creating the unusual is all in a day's work for the company, based on the Ely Distribution Centre, in Cardiff, which manufactures a vast range of products for a huge range of industries.

It's not just Time Lords on Dipec's prestigious client list - the company's reputation has attracted orders from the likes of Technquest, the National Museum, Cardiff University, Celtic Manor, GE Healthcare, the National Assembly for Wales and St David's Hall.

And, like a certain time travelling machine, what seems outwardly small is huge inside, in terms of services provided, creative thinking, quality products, professional approach and high levels of expertise.

Working with acrylic, polycarbonate, PETG and other materials, Dipec Plastics, a member of the Shop and Display Equipment Association, provides CNC machining, flame and diamond polishing, bending, welding, cementing, drilling, engraving, manual routing, cutting and acrylic craftsmanship.

"We pride ourselves on delivering quality, a comprehensive service and attention to detail," says managing director Jason Callow.

"Materials may be cut, shaped, bent, glued and formed to a very high specification. We are creative acrylic craftsmen and produce affordable acrylic products."

With five shopfloor fabricators/machinists and three office staff, the majority of which have been with Dipec for longer than 15 years, a vast bank of knowledge and experience goes into every fabricated product.

"Our creative thinking is balanced with our in-depth knowledge of acrylics and plastics and their suitability," says Jason.

"Our drive to succeed and willingness to think outside the box enables us to undertake a project from concept to delivery and we work with clients to achieve a product that not only looks great, but is practical and affordable."
