ASHCOMBE

TIMBER DOOR CANOPIES

BRANSCOMBE

Everyone has seen the beautiful old door canopies still to be found in villages and towns throughout the country.

For hundreds of years, decorative woodwork has been used to enhance otherwise plain cottages and houses, but the practice came to an end in the thirties. Since then we have had decades of unattractive, plain housing design, unrelieved by any decorative feature.

Now an interest in external decoration has revived. Decorative brickwork and woodwork, doors, windows and tiling are appearing on new property and many older houses are being renovated with the restoration of the original period features. This is a movement certain to continue as builders and home owners seek to improve the value and appearance of their homes.

DUNSCOMBE

Fitting an all-timber canopy gives immediate visual impact, and a cosy, homely and welcoming atmosphere as you approach your front door.

George Woods replicate as closely as possible the patterns created in the last century, often by local carpenters – styles which still seem well-proportioned, graceful yet functional.

CHILCOMBE

EASTACOMBE

*Overall height 1400mm
Overall Depth 700mm
Standard width 1470mm
Width variable on request*

Your canopy is delivered part-assembled for ease of fitting, except the tiles. Full instructions are included, all well within the capacity of the average handyman.

FINISHING & TILING

Timber Finishing

All timberwork is supplied unfinished, or can be primed for a small charge. Canopies were traditionally painted white or stained a dark oak shade, but any good quality paint or coloured preservative finish properly applied will ensure a long trouble-free life.

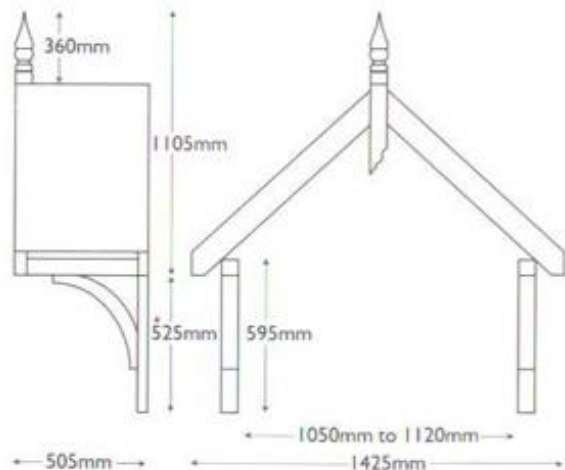

Tiling

Ideally the canopy should be tiled to match the main roof tiles or slates. It can however be left felted, using mineral-coated felt. A good seal must be made between the roof and the wall with either a mortar filler or flashing.

GITTISHAM

*Overall height 390mm
Overall Depth 365mm
Standard width 1500mm*
