Forecourt Solutions Composite Covers range of lightweight high strength manhole covers sees the arrival of three additional cover sizes. Each cover within the range will feature our new HEX non-slip pattern and a range of security features to prevent theft from your underground infrastructure. Covers, frames and optional installation skirts will be made from composite high strength material to provide market leading functionality. These units will feature Forecourts unique Lock n Lift technology to prevent cover theft and to restrict unauthorised access. The cover lift weights are significantly less than traditional cast iron covers which generally exceed HSE single person lift weight guidelines. Composite covers are very resistant to corrosion and are through coloured.

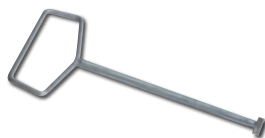

The range is available from load ratings of A15 up to D400 Tested and certified to EN124 Pas26 Permanent Set Load Test requirements.

As with all Forecourt Solutions products, customers will benefit from high quality yet excellent affordability.

The full range of covers will be stocked in our european warehouse to ensure immediate availability.

Each cover comes complete with a full function lifting and locking key LNL-1000 however if preferred the covers are also compatible with our best selling SwiftLift SWL-1000 manhole cover lifting tool.
