Forecourt Manhole Covers

As peoples expectations for water tightness vary from under cover water pressure to over cover water pressure to high pressure water jets we will customise seal arrangements to meet your requirements. Below can be seen a 700 x 700 mm cover within our submersion facility being tested for undercover pressure equivalent to 1 m of water. If required such testing can be witness tested and independently verified.

The composite covers themselves are tested and certified for loads up to EN124 Pas26 D400 Permanent Set Load Test requirements. Copies available upon request.

As with all Forecourt products customers will benefit from high quality yet excellent affordability. The full range of covers will be stocked in our European warehouse to ensure quick availability to meet your lead time requirements.

Our range of covers is fully compatible with our range of water tight draw-pits and chambers should you require a comprehensively sealed underground chamber solution. Should you require a cover solution for a larger clear opening to a chamber then our modular cover range may provide a solution to meet your needs.
