Nilfisk GD 2000 series

Minimum sound level meets maximum suction performance

Replacing the motor is so easy that anyone can do it, anytime. Simply click out the old motor cassette, click in a new one and continue working. Virtually no downtime!

The 1,400 cm² optional sack filter is merely one of the elements in the GD 2000's superior filtration system.

At only 46dB¹, the Nilfisk GD 2000 is quietly making its mark on savvy cleaners. A unique combination of the market's lowest sound level, powerful suction and superior filtration makes the GD 2000 the ideal choice for cleaning virtually anywhere, anytime. Extremely easy to use, it is both ergonomic and highly manoeuvrable. A variety of features boosts productivity, and the machine is designed in such a way that potential service tasks can be performed quickly and easily by the operator.

The Nilfisk GD 2000 is available in a number of different models, with variations in machine appearance, filters, cord fixture, accessories and other options. A wide range of filtrations options are available, including HEPA 13 filters. Another industry first is the unique motor cassette, which can be replaced by the operator, if necessary. Increase productivity with features like a 1.9 m hose and 15 m cord (detachable cord or easily replaceable fixed cord). Even though the GD 2000 has the market's lowest sound level, it still provides maximum suction power – up to 300 W at the nozzle.
