

Asset Finance for Biomass Boilers

As part of its programme to reduce carbon emissions, the Government is encouraging UK businesses to reduce reliance on fossil fuels by switching to renewable energy sources, such as biomass.

Under the Government's Renewable Heat Incentive (RHI) scheme, businesses that use certain types of renewable energy – including biomass boilers – are eligible for payments based on how much heat they generate. The RHI income has been guaranteed by the Government for the next 20 Years.

In addition to the financial incentive of RHI, installing a biomass boiler will reduce your business's carbon footprint; give it a controllable energy source (wood pellets, chips and logs) and lower operating costs.
