

A-Frames

Priden Engineering offer a complete range of A'frame solutions manufactured in Aluminium, stainless steel, and mild steel. All of the products are designed to customer specifications and can be modified to satisfy customers specific transport solutions.

Priden Engineering also offer a complete range of high level 'Plug and Go' A'frames that give the operator easy installation along with reduced coil wear between tractor unit and trailer.

Please contact one of our sales team for more information.

