euro cylinder padlocks

the main advantages of a euro cylinder padlock are extra security and convenience:

a euro cylinder padlock may be operated by a very wide range of different manufacturer's cylinders - whether you want a 6-pin restricted cylinder, a 12-pin patented high security cylinder or an advanced electronic or magnetic key system.

- hardened steel, stainless steel or brass lock body
- molybdenum-steel shackle
- fully rekeyable
- double stainless steel ball locking system
- two keys

the convenience of a euro cylinder padlock is that you may have it keyed exactly as you wish. you might want to have your padlock keyed alike with your garage door and save having to carry an extra key, or you might be after a whole master-keyed group of locks.

please ask your local dealer for more information about the range of cylinders available or if you want to find out more about master-keying.

specialist locks

the federal 700 series rectangular steel lock

is available in two body styles:

standard or ds

and also two keying styles:

regular or euro cylinder

the 741 series has a rekeyable federal 6-pin cylinder and may be keyed alike or master-keyed. they are compatible with a range of half euro cylinders - see the previous page.

the new chain retaining ds models, have two separate slots for the end links of a chain. when unlocked the bolt opens only the first slot. it must be twisted and pulled to open the second slot as well.

- hardened solid steel lock body
- hardened steel alloy bolt
- black e-plating for rust resistance
- rekeyable six pin cylinder
- stainless steel ball locking

rotalok™

rotalok™ is a unique design of padlock that features a rotating outer sleeve which resists all kinds of physical attack, including attempts at twisting the body of the padlock with a wrench or similar tool.

it has been selected over many years by central government, the mod and many of the major utility companies for a wide range of security applications.

the rotalok™ has the ability to accept the widest possible range of cylinders, allowing the user to select the locking system of their choice - giving total flexibility and convenience.

rotalok™ is tested & approved to cen grades 5 & 6.

rotalok is available with:

- a standard shackle (st27)
  - a semi-enclosed shackle (se27)
  - a fully protected shackle (fe27)
- the prices are the same for all three

Rotalok™

- unique outer rotating sleeve to resist torque wrench attacks
- can be suited into almost any existing pin tumbler masterkeyed system
- corrosion resistant and independently tested for 214 hours of salt-water spray
- 12mm case-hardened boron steel shackle
- the key can only be removed in the locked position for additional security
- manufactured and tested to cen grades 5 & 6
- approved for use on equipment with specific rated security products up to LPCB LPS 1175 Grade 4
- central government/mod approved
- nato codified
