Reconfigurable Tables

Rectangular, D-end and quadrant tables that may be combined into a wide range of configurations. Shown in Light Oak.

- When combined with D-ends the edge profiles create a neatly rounded central void which is both an attractive feature and allows for the routing of cables.
- D-ends may additionally be used individually, combined to form a circular table, or placed against walls as console tables.
- Rectangular tables may also be placed against walls, for example to act as serving tables when a conference room is reconfigured for a reception.
- Shown with matching Fulcrum storage with slim metal handles, and Ele chairs.

► Classroom layout for training or presentations.

Circular Tables

Circular table with thin edge, in Macassar Tan on matching timber column base, with black mirror glass footplate.

Fulcrum Options

We use wood veneers whose varying grain and figure emphasise the beauty and individuality of the wood. There will be natural variations in hue, grain and figure, and both knots and colouring arising from natural minerals in the wood. Walnut and Maple in particular have a directional nap, and may appear light from one side and darker if viewed from another side. All of these features, and more, are part of the character and beauty of a natural material.

Fulcrum Edge Options

Fulcrum Standard Veneer Finishes

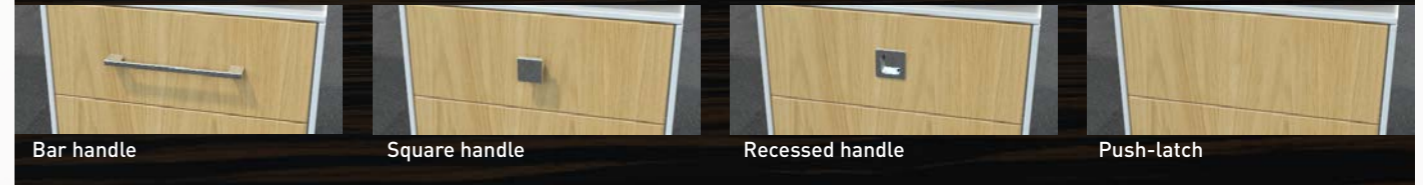

Fulcrum Handle Options

Fulcrum is available with a choice of four handles: a solid timber handle, a slim metal handle, a bar handle and the Fulcrum Professional handle (solid timber + stainless steel). Solid timber handles are matched to the selected veneer.

Fulcrum CE Handle Options

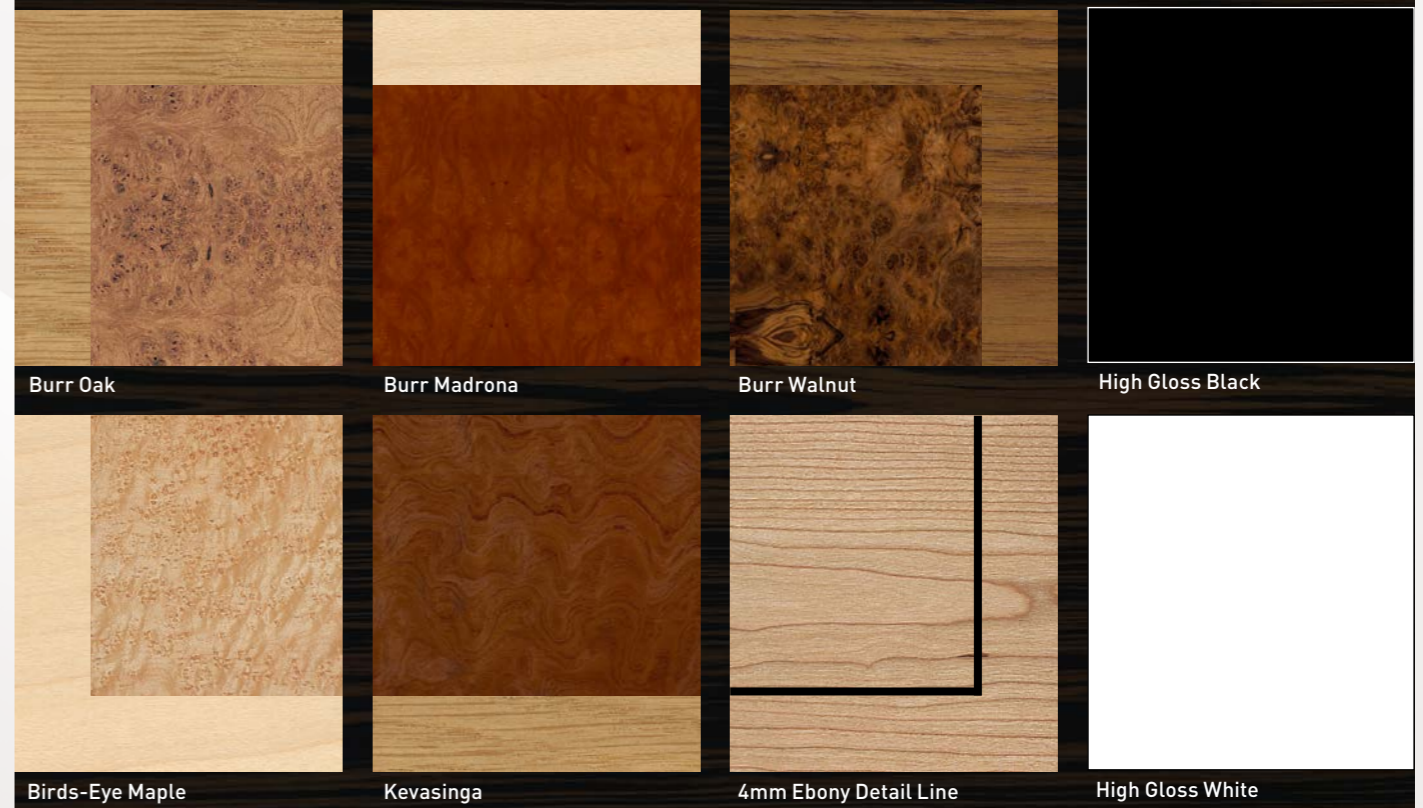

Handle options are Bar, Square, Recessed and Push latch (no handle, with push release)

Fulcrum Glass Finishes

Fulcrum Exotic Veneer Finishes

Due to variable factors such as lighting and the limitations of printing, veneer colours in this brochure may not match manufactured items. Samples of all our finishes are available on request.
