Renting a property can be a daunting prospect

It's important to ensure that your personal possessions, as well as the contents and items that you are held responsible for, are fully protected.

How does it work?

Stride can provide you with a specialist policy, designed specifically to meet the needs of the modern tenant. Normal household contents insurance policies will not offer the variety of cover and protection that is considered necessary.

Contents including accidental damage cover, fire and theft

- Provides cover for the contents of your home in the event of damage that is caused by an insurable peril such as fire or theft.

Cover for personal belongings

- If selected provides cover for personal effects when taken outside the home.

Accidental damage to landlord's contents (if you are responsible)

- Your tenancy agreement may state that you are responsible for any items the landlord leaves at the property. This policy will cover accidental damage to these items and may protect your deposit.

Legal expenses

- Up to £50,000 legal costs for disputes.

Bicycle insurance

- Cover for accidental loss or damage can be arranged for bicycles up to £500 when kept in outbuildings or taken away from the home.

Occupiers liability Up to £2,000,000

- In respect of your legal liability to pay damages, claimants' costs and expenses for accidental bodily injury, illness, accidental loss of or damage to property.

Other policy benefits include free advice on personal legal and taxation matters where applicable.
