Engineering consultancy welcomes new recruit

Lorien Engineering Solutions has bolstered its growing team with the appointment of a business development manager to grow the company's presence in the life sciences sector.

Tim Bednall has joined the engineering design and project management specialist from Molins Technologies, which is a world leader in custom machinery and product solutions for packaging and processing.

An experienced technical, sales and project engineer,

Tim will focus on identifying opportunities and building strategic partnerships which will underpin Lorien's continued growth in the life sciences sector.
