

Straightforward Guards from Jtech Services

The standard, front opening, LST (Low Surface Temperature) Radiator Guard from Jtech Services has received many favourable comments from their users due to its straightforward, uncomplicated design and looks.

These attributes mean that they fit in well with practically any environment and will look good.

Available in both powder coated Steel and Aluminium, the guards are suitable for either wet or normal conditions.

What about installation? A detailed measuring service is available that allows for quick fitting.

This straightforward design allows easy, authorised access for cleaning and maintenance during their long years of service.
