There are few better ways to relax than in your own sauna, and now that can be a reality.

Our range of timber barrel saunas are made in Latvia using high quality Siberian Pine which is thermally treated to make it more stable and in doing so, creates a stunning looking shell for your new sauna. With contrasting timber inside including Aspen, you will have a stunning piece of hand-crafted architecture. A choice of sizes ranging from 2.8m to 5.4m and choice of heat enables you to customise your new sauna to suit your needs and space.

- Saunas have proven health benefits including removing toxins, relieving tension and reducing stress.
- Saunas can be fun! It allows time for chat and to interact with family and friends - no phones allowed!
- The heat source can be electric or wood enabling you to have the choice of being off-grid if required.
- Constructed using 45mm thick Thermowood, heat treated Siberian Pine, for longevity.
- High specification includes glass door, half-height glass wall, LED light and wood treatment as standard.

Operation

As standard the Barrel Sauna will come with an appropriately sized 230v electric sauna heater with sauna rocks. This will be pre-wired into a distribution board.

As an option you can have a Stoveman wood burning heater with sauna rocks. The timber is put into the stove from outside to keep the sauna clean and free from ash etc.

Also available 400v three phase electric heater.
