When the Cleanliness of a Container is as Critical as its Contents

Cleaning Services That Fulfill Your Requirements

We know that the last thing you want in your containers is something you didn't put there. For over 20 years, we have built our expertise as a supplier of containers proven to meet the most stringent requirements.

Our portfolio of EP Scientific critical environment products and services can meet all of your custom cleaning requirements, large or small. Send us your containers or purchase from our extensive line of standard and custom products.

But mostly, EP Scientific products offer you peace-of-mind, by knowing the containers we provide are processed to meet the highest standards of particulate and contaminate removal.
