Demands on packaging from the market place today are very high. Safety and protection for the packed product, optimum sales appeal and identity through design and shape, highly functional with features for re-usability as well as alternative use, but also logistical aspects such as storage, stackability and transportation. These are some of the features expected.

Whether round or square, oval or rectangular shaped, adjustable or fixed length, coloured or transparent material. Be it tubes or boxes, cassettes or cases, single or set packaging required, choose the best solution for your purposes from more than 3,000 rose standard products!

All products can be supplied in rose plastic standard colours or, subject to certain minimum quantities, in customized colours.

Give it some bite with individual packaging solutions
